he Fairbanks House is the oldest surviving timber frame house in North America. It was built for JoGrace Fairebanke and their family in 1636. The house was occupied by them and passed down to succeeding generations of the family until the early twentieth century. In all, eight generations of the Fairbanks Family house and the Fairbanks family still owns the property. Over the years, the original portion was extended was the family's needs and as the fashions of the times dictated including the east and west wings added in the nineteenth century.

Abbott Lowell Cummings, former Charles F. Montgomery Professor of American Decorative Arts at Yale says the following about the Fairbanks House:

"The Jonathan Fairbanks' House in Dedham, Massachusetts, is one of the most important historic houses now stand the northeastern part of the United States. Its value to the area and to the nation as a whole lies not so much in its clabeing the oldest house in New England but in its architectural significance... It may be said quite simply that no other the mid-17th century in New England has survived in such unbelievable unspoiled condition. It is extraordinary that a structure should preserve such a high percentage of original features. It is a veritable storehouse of information concern small handful of houses which survive from this early period."

Fairbanks House is open to the public for tours from May-October.

Tours are available Tuesday - Saturday 10:00am to 4:00pm and Sunday 1:00pm to 5:00pm. The last tour of begins at 4:00pm.

The Fairbanks House in Dedham, MA is thought to be the oldest standing timber frame building in North America. Built circa 1637-1641 for Jonathan and Grace Fairebanke and their six children, it was home to eight generations of the Fairbanks family. The Fairbanks House is now a historic house museum, open annually May 1 -- October 31.

The Country's Oldest Timber Frame House

The Fairbanks House is believed to be the oldest surviving timber frame house in North America. It was built for a family of Puritan immigrants from Yorkshire in England, Jonathan and Grace Fairebanke and their six children. Dendrochonology (tree ring dating) has confirmed a construction date of the late 1630s-early 1640s. The house was passed down to succeeding generations of the family until the early twentieth century. In all, eight generations of the Fairbanks family lived in the house. Through the Fairbanks Family in America, Inc., the extended Fairbanks family still owns the property. Over the years, the original portion of the house was extended with additions as the family's needs changed and as the fashions of the times dictated. The current east and west wings were added in the early nineteenth century.

Like no other house

Abbott Lowell Cummings, former Charles F. Montgomery Professor of American Decorative Arts at Yale University, says the following about the Fairbanks House:

"The Jonathan Fairbanks House in Dedham, Massachusetts, is one of the most important historic houses now standing in the northeastern part of the United States. Its value to the area and to the nation as a whole lies not so much in its claim to being the oldest house in New England but in its architectural significance... The Fairbanks House is open to the public for tours from May to October. Tours are available Tuesday - Saturday 9:00 am to 3:00 pm and Sunday 1:00 pm to 3:00 pm. Tours begin every hour, on the hour. The last tour of the day begins at 3:00 pm.

Seen here are two of the three sisters who owned the Fairbanks House from 1843 to 1879. The eldest sister, Prudence, died first, at age 89 in 1871. These are probably the two younger sisters, Sally (1790-1877) and Nancy (1794-1879). For this photograph the sisters posed outside the Fairbanks House with some of their prized family heirlooms, along with their cat.

Child No. 6. Ellis Fairbanks, born _____, went to sea, and was never afterward heard from."

I believe this is the Ellis Fairbanks who came to Spanish West Florida and lived in the area of the Pascagoula River, then known as East Pascagoula, now known as Moss Point, in Jackson Co, Miss. Can you help us determine if this is correct?

He was known as a well educated man and was believed to have come from an affluent family in Massachusetts. The local descendants of Ellis Fairbanks have never researched his family. He was one of the early important figures in the history of the Gulf Coast. I have been interested in his ancestry and I am preparing material on those of influence in the early history of our county for The Journal, published by the Jackson County Genealogical Society.

Many of those who came to the Gulf Coast and Pascagoula River area were seamen, ship builders, carpenters, etc. Many ship builders and carpenters came here from the New England area 'Live Oaking' in search of the live oaks for ship building. They also were shipping tall yellow pine logs to New England for ship builders to use as ship masts.

He was married to Mrs. Sarah Cumbest Ely, the widow of Jean Antoine Ely (a ship carpenter) who died in 1820. Sarah Cumbest was the daughter of Simon Cumbest (a ship carpenter) and Maria Eva Kop.

Simon Cumbest & Maria Eva Kop

Land was claimed by Simon Cumbest on the Pascagoula River for Section 10, Township 7, Range 6 West in 1799. This is the area known as Choctaw Point, Mossy Pen Point and later Griffin Point in present day Moss Point. This is where the Cumbest family resided.

On February 20, 1801, Simon Cumbest, an "old inhabitant of Pascagoula River" applied for another tract of land for a cowpen, on the East side of the Pascagoula River, between Plum Bluff and Cedar Creek.

Ellis Fairbanks (II)

The father of Ellis II was Ellis I. Ellis I was the son of Lieut. Joshua Fairbanks and Lydia Ellis of Douglas, Massachusetts. In the Fairbanks Family in America publication of 1932 their son Ellis I was born May 4, 1771 in Douglas, Mass, "went to sea, and was never afterward heard from".

I recently connected with the Fairbanks Family via their web site and e-mailed them to let them know about the Ellis Fairbanks I and II of Jackson County, MS. Between their research and our records we concluded that Ellis Fairbanks of 1771 and the Ellis I who came to Jackson Co, MS are one and the same.

Ellis (Sr. or I) was appointed as the first sheriff of Mobile Co in Mississippi Territory.

1812 – May 14, all of old Spanish West Florida between the Pearl River and the Perdido River was added to the Mississippi Territory.

1812 – From May 14 to December 12, Ellis Fairbanks is appointed as the temporary first Sheriff of Mobile County in Mississippi Territory which at that date included the future Counties of Jackson, Mobile and Hancock; all the Gulf Coast territory from the Pearl River to Mobile Bay (excluding the City of Mobile)

Ellis Fairbanks (I) could have lived anywhere on the Gulf Coast but it is believed that he lived on his 1812 Land Claim in Section 15, Township 5, Range 6. That is the section of land where the present day Caswell Springs United Methodist Church is located on Hwy 63.

Then on December 12, 1812, Mobile Co, Miss Territory was divided into three counties and Perry King was appointed as Sheriff.

Ellis Fairbanks (I) married the widow of Antoine Ely, Mrs. Sarah Cumbest Ely circa 1821. Sarah was the mother of 4 children, Mary Rose, Catherine, John Charles and Margaret Ely, the ancestors of thousands of Jackson Countians.

Ellis Fairbanks (II) was born Dec 15, 1822 in Jackson Co, MS

1824 - Ellis Fairbanks (I) originally of Massachusetts, was named as a Justice of the Peace of Jackson Co, Miss, along with Walter Denny originally of Pennsylvania, Charles Holland, John Brewer, Sr., and Wm. C. Seaman originally of New York.

1825 Census of Jackson Co, MS - Ellis Fairbanks is listed as head of a household with 4 males and 4 females.

Ellis Fairbanks (II) opened a general store at the Jackson county seat of Americus before the Civil War and it was there, as far as we can figure, until his death in January of 1900. He became a lender of money to his customers, according to old receipts found, as well as a merchant. He sold everything from tin pans and tobacco to nutmeg and shoes. His store ledger of 1889, 1890 listed all of the customers who bought on credit. When camp meeting time drew near, the ladies purchased new shoes, fabrics, buttons, lace and needles from Mr. Fairbanks, getting ready for the biggest event of their year. He also bought or took in exchange for merchandise, butter, eggs, meat, honey, rice, fruits, and other farm products. He went to Mobile and Moss Point to market when the schooners came in from New Orleans or other ports, with goods for sale.

1874-1893 - The Americus Post Office operated from the store Ellis Fairbanks. Ellis Fairbanks served as postmaster.

Jackson Court House or Jackson C. H. was the county seat from 1821 until 1859 when the name was changed to Americus.

Old Americus was the seat of justice of Jackson County from 1859 until 1872 when the Court House was moved to Scranton. The move of the Court House to a railroad, if one ran through the county, was required by the State of Mississippi. Therefore Scranton, named by the railroad, became the new county seat.

Fairbanks House ~ Dedham, Mass

What sort of a life did Jonathan, Grace, and their six children have when they settled in Dedham? They busy with day to day living to keep detailed diaries of their activities but there are things that we can de the evidence that remains.

The oak lintel of the parlor chamber fireplace has been dated by dendrochronology (tree ring dating) as cut in 1637. In the 17th century timber was not seasoned before it was used so this is a good indication in which the house was built. No older wooden building has yet been found in North America. Jonatha 12 acres of land in the original allotments to Dedham settlers in 1637, and that fact further supports the house.

The original house had four rooms surrounding the massive center chimney – two on the first floor and second with an attic above that. Insulation was provided by wattle and daub, a mixture of clay, straw as which provided a smooth interior finish to the walls as well. If you walked in the front door the room c was called the parlor and the room on the left was the hall, we would call it the kitchen. On the second the parlor chamber and the hall chamber. The house faced south, instead of towards the street, and was room deep. There were two cellars, and we know from Jonathan's death inventory that they were used mostly food stuffs. By modern standards these were close quarters for a family of 8 but at the time the rather grand. The first recorded property assessments were made in Dedham in 1648 and Jonathan's he valued in the top 25% of Dedham property.

Between the time the house was built and Jonathan's death in 1668 there was an addition to the house. as "the new house" in Jonathan's death inventory, the addition was on the west end of the house connect hall. The death inventory shows that this room housed all manner of tools for the farm, for wood works making cheese. The hall chamber (the room over the hall or kitchen) was also used as a store room for and flax and wool. That left the family three rooms for daily living.

The hall was where the cooking and eating took place. Cooking in the 1600s was hard, hot work. The the day was probably prepared in the morning and eaten around noon, giving good daylight for both precleanup.

The parlor, the other first floor room, had the highest concentration of valuable objects according to the inventory and served as a sitting room, a public area for entertaining guests and as a bedroom. The parl above the parlor was also used as a bedroom. Interestingly, the most valuable things in the house at the estate inventory were the linens. Today we are used to having easy access to relatively cheep machine but in the 17th century all cloth had to be processed by hand from animal or plant fibers.

In addition to the contents of the house, Jonathan owned a good deal more land than his original 12 acressine, cows and a barn full of hay, although we do not know exactly where the barn was.

When Jonathan died he left his house to his oldest son, John. On the occasion of John's death in 1684 t property was left to his two sons, Joseph and Benjamin. The two brothers divided the property and Joseph and Benjamin.

Joseph died in 1734, leaving the house to his son Joseph who sold the house to his own son, also named in turn sold the house to his son – another Joseph. This Joseph owned the house briefly and then sold it brothers John, Israel, Samuel and Ebenezer in 1755. Ebenezer bought his brothers shares and lived in t until his death in 1812, at which point the house passed to his son, Ebenezer.

Ebenezer lived in the house until his death in 1832 when he willed the house to his wife, Mary. Mary I house until her death and left the house to her three unmarried daughters, Prudence, Sarah and Mary. V surviving sister died she left the house to her unmarried niece Rebecca in 1879. Rebecca was the last fa member to live in the house.

Over the years there were several additions to the original house. The east and west wings were probable the first half of the 18th century. The lean-to addition on the north side of the house was probably added earlier, but after 1668, since there is no mention of it in Jonathan's estate inventory. The privy off the 1 the mud room are 19th century additions.

The present house and its collections represent the evolution of a building and a family over 267 years. was spared many restoration impulses so that it provides an excellent picture of 17th century methods. the builders who put up the house were English carpenters, it is a valuable recourse for English architec historians as well.

In 1999, a historic structure report on the house was completed by Building Conservation Associates. It document details the known architectural history together with a complete documentation of the historic existing building fabric, technical studies and measured drawings. A copy of the report is on file in the Office and will provide a wealth of detail about the house to any reader. Two other excellent sources of are:

THOUGHTS ON THE EVE OF THE HOMECOMING OF A CARVED OAK AND PINE CHEST ORIGINAL TO THE OLD FAIRBANKS HOMESTEAD

By Jonathan L. Fairbanks, an eleventh generation descendant of the original Jonathan Fairbanks of Dedham

On Wednesday, June 18, 2003, Lynn Fairbank, the President of our Association and I, together with the famous dealer, Leigh Keno, were seated in the auction room of Christie's, at 20 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, awaiting the bidding that was to take place for a chest made in Dedham, Massachusetts, by John Houghton (1624-84), and once a part of the original furnishings of the Old Fairbanks Homestead. The catalogue for this auction listed the chest with its venerable history on page 69, fig. 133 -- illustrated in full color, with an estimate for its purchase price to range from $6,000 to $9,000. Knowing that this was a low estimate, I had discussed matters with the members of the board of the family Association, and was given permission by Lynn to seek donors who would help achieve the funding necessary to return the chest to the family Homestead.

The chest was probably sold by the last family resident, Rebecca, at or around the time of the sale of the house and land-- and its subsequent purchase by the Family Association from Mrs. J. Amory Codman and her daughter, Martha C. Codman. That saga is covered in the last two Courier articles.

This month of June, a hundred years later, the chest, once lost, was about to be redeemed and returned. Lynn and I were confident that we would be able to meet the challenge of the auction. By numerous phone calls and letter-writing, I'd managed to obtain funds beyond the high estimate listed in the catalogue. I'd also obtained a list of pledges from both family members and friends that would sustain a potential bid to $50,000.00. Also, just in case of a runaway auction, I had in my pocket names of persons who had promised to help in such an emergency. Yet little did we realize that two eager buyers lurked anonymously on phone lines. The first one dropped out when the bidding passed the mid $50 thousand mark. The second bidder held on firmly until the final count that brought the gavel down (with buyer's premium) to $71,700.

The family relic that had vanished into the antiques world a hundred years ago was redeemed at a dear ransom. For the two weeks after the auction, it has been an honor and joy for me to experience the positive response of those who care about history and who, with open-handed generosity, have mailed in donations to make this acquisition possible --not just for the Homestead and its history, but also for Dedham, the Historical Society of this Town, and all who seek to learn about America's early past. This week, the Fairbanks Family Association in America will send to Christie's a check for the purchase and delivery of the chest to the Homestead. This is made possible by more than fifty generous donors, many of whom wish to remain anonymous. Every board member made either a pledge or donation. Later this summer, those donors who wish to be honored and listed as special friends will be made public.

What makes this acquisition so expensive? Also, how do we know that this chest was actually owned by the family homestead? Firstly, all surviving examples of American furniture made in seventeenth century New England are rare and precious. That reason alone justifies a high auction price. But this work is extra special because it was pictured as part of the furnishings of the Fairbanks House in a precise drawing illustrated in plate 26 and published by the American Architect & Building News Company of 1898, part I. This publication, entitled "The Georgian Period" being Measured Drawings of Colonial Work, was the first significant architectural publication to record measured drawings of early historic homes in America. That the Old Fairbanks House of Dedham was selected for this publication is no accident, for this old house had been the focus of antiquarian attention since the mid nineteenth century. But we are especially fortunate that the artist also decided to illustrate the "Oak Chest In Store Room 2d Story" as part of his measured drawings. That drawing is what identifies this chest specifically to the family homestead. The image and the chest itself are unmistakably one and the same. By the 1890's the chest was no longer a useful, functioning part of the home's furnishings. But still appreciated for whatever reasons, it was tucked away in storage.

How the chest is attributed to having been made by John Houghton of Dedham is a much more complex piece of detective work. That story leads back in time to 1980 when, at the Museum of Fine Arts, I was curator of a developing exhibition: New England Begins, The Seventeenth Century. It was my great good fortune to be working with a team of brilliant scholars, including Dr. Abbott Lowell Cummings, who had already published much of his extensive research on the architecture of the Fairbanks House. In the Medfield Historical Society I discovered two foliate carvings made of oak that were identified as fragments of the pulpit of the First Church of Medfield of 1655. These fragments led scholars Robert Trent and Robert St. George to records that identified the pulpit with both John Houghton and his master, John Thurston (1607-1685) who had come to the New World from County Suffolk, in Old England. He brought with him knowledge of woodworking skills known as joinery, framing and carving -- all of which he passed on to his apprentice John Houghton who had come to New England at age eleven- not having trained as a woodworker abroad. The pulpit carvings are clearly related to furniture owned by the Dedham Historical Society. The workmanship is so distinctive that an attribution to Houghton is without question. Several other works are related. A chest remarkably similar to the Fairbanks house example was acquired by the Museum of Fine Arts in preparation for the exhibition, and illustrated in its catalogue: New England Begins: The Seventeenth Century (Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, 1982), 3 vols, Vol. 3, pp. 534-536. Subsequent research by Dr. St. George led to his publication "Style and Structure in the Joinery of Dedham and Medfield, Massachusetts, 1635-1685," in Winterthur Porfolio 13 (1979), pp. 1-46. The Fairbanks chest was spotted by Robert St. George while touring the collections of the executive offices of the Seagram & Sons Corporate headquarters in downtown Manhattan, New York. It is from this remarkable building famous for its design by Ludwig Mies van der Rohe in the 1950's that the chest migrated to auction at Christie's, despite my previous attempts to obtain the chest as a gift to the House. A paper label within the chest records the famous firm of Ginsburg & Levy, Inc./Antiques/ 815 Madison Ave./ New York as the source from which the chest was probably acquired by the firm of Seagram. Further research is needed to track the ownership of the chest backward in time to the early years of the last century.

Much has yet to be learned about our remarkable survivor, the Fairbanks chest, which comes to us containing potential stories yet untold. This brief report is but the beginning. Yet this moment highlights the fact that what was lost is now redeemed and returned. As Lynn and I left the auction one perceptive and admiring writer observed, "that such a return of a seventeenth century object back to its original site could only happen in New England." It should be added that this could not have happened without the many donors who generously gave to this need and opportunity to bring the chest back home.

This is the home of Ellis Fairbanks I's ancestors. The Ellis who married Sarah Cumbest Ely, widow of Antoine Ely. I sent the Fairbanks Family site the info I had on ole Ellis and they were thrilled. He had gone to sea and they did not know where he ended up except that they found his name on a land record in St. Stephens records and wondered is that was him. They said the info filled in a the "lost Ellis" gap in their family records.

Old Americus' Ellis Fairbanks II served as postmaster/merchant

By JOANNE ANDERSON
The Mississippi Press

Two of Jackson County's most interesting ancestors were the father and son, Ellis Fairbanks I, originally of Massachusetts, and his son Ellis Fairbanks II.

An obituary printed in the "Democrat-Star" on Jan. 11, 1900 described Ellis II as a merchant and postmaster in Old Americus.

That and other selected obituaries of the county's founders and citizens are found in "Journal 22" of the Jackson County Genealogy Society.

Editor Else Martin through her résearch has pulled together a story of the two men whose progeny probably number in the thousands today. Their descendants included Carters, Wards and Fairlys.

The son of Lt. Joshua Fairbanks and Lydia Ellis of Douglas, Mass., Ellis I is noted in the "Fairbanks Family in America" publication of 1932 as beingborn on May 4, 1771, in Douglas, Mass. The family history said that he "went to sea, and was never afterward heard from."

Martin recently connected with the Fairbanks family through its Web site and gave them information on the Fairbanks of Jackson County.

"Between their research and our records, we concluded that the Ellis Fairbanks I of 1771 and the Ellis Fairbanks I who come to Jackson County are one and the same person," Martin said.

Ellis I was appointed the first sheriff of Mobile County in the Mississippi Territory. This was a temporary appointment from May 14 to Dec. 12, 1812.

Martin explained that at that time, Mobile County included the future counties of Jackson, Mobile and Hancock and all the Gulf Coast territory from the Pearl River to Mobile Bay, excluding the City of Mobile.

"Ellis Fairbanks I could have lived anywhere on the Gulf Coast, but it is believed that he lived on his 1812 Land Claim in Section 15, Township 5, Range "Martin said. "That is the sec-

1830 census, he is listed as age 50 to 60. He died between 1837 and 1840 and is buried in an unmarked grave on the old Fairbanks home place in Old Americus.

Ellis II, the subject of the "Journal's" obituary, was born on Dec. 15, 1822, in Jackson County.

"He opened a general store at the Jackson County seat of Americus before the Civil War and he was there, as far as we can figure, until his death in January of 1900," Martin said.

"He became a lender of money to his customers, according to old receipts found, as well as a merchant. He sold everything from tin pans and tobacco to nutmeg and shoes."

His store ledger of 1889 and 1890 listed all of the customers

until 1893

Old Americus was the county seat from 1859 until 1872 when the state of Mississippi required the courthouse be moved to a railroad if one ran through a county.

"Therefore Scranton, named by the railroad, became the new county seat," Martin explained.

Ellis II's obituary appears in "The Journal," with notes added from Martin's research:

Ellis Fairbanks (II), born December 15, 1822, in Jackson County, Miss., died at his Americus home, January 23, 1900.

Ellis was the son of Ellis Fairbanks I and Sarah Cumbest Ely Fairbanks.

He married Mary Ann Carter, born March 17, 1817, the daughter of William and Mary Goff Carter. Mary Ann Fairbanks died Jan 19, 1901. They are both buried in the Fairbanks-Fairly-McLeod Cemetery at Old Americus.

Ellis II was a merchant next to the Old Americus Courthouse. When the Jackson County Courthouse moved to Scranton, he continued his general store as well as serving the Americus community as postmaster.

Ellis and Mary Ann were parents of:

Sarah Cumbest Ely, a widow, married Ellis I around 1821.

"Sarah was the mother of four children, Mary Rose, Catherine, John Charles and Margaret Ely."

In 1824, Ellis I was named as a justice of the peace of Jackson County, Miss., along with Walter Denny, originally of Pennsylvania, Charles Holland, John Brewer Sr., and William C. Seaman, originally of New York.

The 1825 census listed him as head of a household with four males and four females. In the

He also bought or took in exchange for merchandise, butter, eggs, meat, honey, rice, fruits, and other farm products. He went to Mobile and Moss Point to market when the schooners came in from New Orleans or other ports, with goods for sale.

Martin's research also shows that Ellis II, as postmaster, operated the Americus Post Office out of his store from 1874

August 17, 1888 The Pascagoula Democrat Star

IN THE SADDLE

From Our Traveling Agent and Correspondent.

Howell, Jackson Co. Miss. Aug 13, '88 Editor Democrat Star:

After leaving Vancleave your correspondent crossed Pascagoula River at Graham's Ferry. This is five miles below the junction at Red and Black creeks with the Pascagoula. From the river our way leads through Pascagoula swamp for a distance of four miles, which I suppose to be the average width of the swamp of the river. This is one of the most lonely, yet enjoyable rides we have had. A dense growth of shrub cane covers the ground, o'er shadowed by magnificent forest trees of various kinds. The sun at high noon peeps down from his aerial throne through the think foliage and steals an occasional kiss from the dark, upturned face of the earth. The hogs probe the rich soil with their muddy snouts, the fat cattle crop the growing cane by the road side, and the alligator, with stealthy motion peeps from lakes and lagoons upon us as we pass along the picturesque and lonely retreat.

Turning down the river we spend the night with Capt. J.M. Rabby, formerly of Mobile County, Ala. but for some years in the turpentine business here. Capt. Rabby and his kind lady know precisely how to take care of a poor, tired newspaper man, and we left their house much refreshed, and proceeded to "work up" the Three Rivers country. A pall of sadness was thrown over this community on the 8th inst. by the death of the little child of Mr. Wm. Howell. The little fellow was one of the two twin brothers, who was the pride of an aged father, but the angel of death has come and robbed the family of one of its richest jewels and left a gloom of sadness, which none but the Giver of all good gifts can remove.

Leaving Three Rivers we turn our steed northward and strike Americus with both feet to the tune of the Democrat Star. This was once the Capital of Jackson County. A postoffice and a small store, both kept by Mr. Ellis Fairbanks, now constitutes the business of the place. After giving "Cleveland", my faithful horse a brief rest, and treating myself to a bath in Cedar Creek, we dined off a five-cent watermelon and proceeded on our zig-zag course. A ride of fifteen miles with only one stop, at the house of Mr. W. E. Walters, where he kindly treated us to another melon and a cup of good coffee, we "fetched up" at Howell Postoffice, on Dog River. Here we spent the Sabbath with the Ward family.

The Wards cannot be excelled for kindness and hospitality, and for witty sayings and droll expressions they closely rival the famous Artemus Ward. My next station is Basin.

Yours, collectively,

The State of Mississippi Superior Court of Chancery July Term A.D. 1834

To the Hon. John A. Quitman, Chancellor of the State of Mississippi. Humbly complaining showeth unto your Honor your oratix Catherine White of the County of Jackson and state aforesaid the wife of Charles White a subject of William IV King of Great Britain, and lately a resident in the Territory of Florida in the U.S.A. (the defendant herein after named) by Ellis Fairbanks her step father and next friend, That she is by birth and residence a citizen of the County of Jackson and state aforesaid, that during the winter of A.D. 1832-33 she was on a visit to and resided with her brother in law a Mr. Coleman in the City of Mobile in the State of Alabama, that shortly after her arrival in the said City of Mobile she was introduced to the said Charles White who soon thereafter became as he said desirous of paying his addresses to her, which privilege being allowed by your oratix terminated by the said White and your oratix being married on the 14th day of February 1833, at the City and state last aforesaid-your oratix would further show unto your Honor that the said White was at the time of said marriage so far as your oratix could judge a young man of good appearance, genteel behavior and industous habits, being engage in keeping a small boarding house and retail grocery store, and a man who did not make use of aident spirits, your oratix would further show unto your Honor that she expects that like most young and inexperienced female (she then being only of the age of 17 years) that she dreamed of a long life of happy years with her companion the said Mr. White, but in this your oratix has been most wretched by disappointed, for so it is may it please your Honor, that the said Charles on the third night after our said marriage and without any the slightest cause on the part of your oratix the said White without the least notice to your oratix intended soto do, left your oratix at home and remained a broad all night that shortly after this his visits to houses and places of ill-fame became notorious and his open and wanton neglect of your oratix as his wife shameful and apparent that he was in the constant habit of illicit connexion with women of bad fame that this course of conduct was pursued by the said White to the great distress of your oratix till about the 4th of July of the same year, when the said White became suspected of being guilty of certain felonies eloped from the City of Mobile and for some time after skulked about in the County of Jackson Mississippi, that your oratix was then left in Mobile and according to the directions of said White sold and disposed of the goods & chattles of the said White left by him in Mobile and carried the proceeds thereof to the said White at the County of Jackson aforesaid and delivered the same to the said White, that the said White left the County of Jackson about September 1833, carrying with him several hundred dollars in money besides a valueable gold watch and rigging together with a part the jewels of your oratix C.W. leaving your oratix without a dollar; unprovided for in a situation not well able to earn a living at work at the mercy and charity of strangers that on the day previous to his leaving your oratix he very much abused your oratix and told your her that he should leave her and never return to her any more, your oratix would further show to your Honor that she has received but one letter from the said White since he left, that the contents of that was neither promising or conciliatory as it little more than contained a direction to your oratix to return to the house of step-father, to live with my mother, the very persons on whom the White could have no claim for the support of your oratix as his wife, he the said White having in the most angrily manner, and as your oratix believes without any good reason thereof having instituted a suit in your Honors court against your oratix said step-father and her mother for the recovery of the distrabation share to which your oratix is entitled from the estate of your oratixs father and that too lantrary to wish or absent of your oratix.

Your oratix wishes further to share unto your Honor that she is informed and believes the report to be true, that the said White left home than of four years since a wife and children in England which said wife is in all probability now still living.

But now so it is may it please your Honor that the said White confederating with others at present unknown to your oratix, whose names when discovered your oratix prays may be made parties hereto with apt words to charge them as defendants, and containing how to injure oppress disgrace and wholly ruin your oratix sometimes pretend and say that he the said White, had not another wife living at the time of his marriage with your oratix and will return to or send for your oratix and live with and treat your oratix as a wife deserves to be treated.

Whereas your oratix charges the truth to be that the said White married your oratix without any intention of living with her any longer than best suited his convenience, that his greatest object was to get possession of and under the name and by the right which the laws of land vested in him as your oratix husband to rob your oratix of what little estate she is entitled to and then put to some other plan for the purpose of playing off again the same game on some other unsuspecting female, and furthermore your oratix charges that the said defendant, had at the time of his marriage with your oratix then living another wife-

All which acting doings and pretences are conbrary to equity and good conscience and tend to the manifest wrong and injury of your oratix in the premises. In consideration whereof and for as much as your oratix can only have adequate relief in the premises in a court of equity where matters of this nature are properly conizable and relierable, To the end therefore that the said Charles White and his confederates when discovered map upon their several and respective corporse oaths to best of their respective knowledge rememberance information and belief fall true direct and perfect answers make to all and singular the matters aforesaid, and that as fully and as particularly as if the same were here repeated and they distinctly interrogated thereto, and more especially that the said confederates may in manner aforesaid answer and sent forth whether the said White had not at the time of his marriage with your oratix another wife then living, whether the treatment of the said White to your oratix was not such as herein alledged, and whether the said White was not in the constant habit of committing acts of adultery with devous women of bad-fame, and whether the said White has not frequently said that he only married your oratix for what she had and with no intention of living with her and whether the said White did not leave your oratix unprovided for and pennyless, he at the same time carrying away with him considerable money and other valueables.

Wherefore, the said premises being considered your oratix prays your honor that a decree be rendered against the said White divorcing your oratix from the marriage bonds, liabilities, and disabilities, thereby incurred, by her said marriage with the said White and that the said White may be restrained or estoped from further providing in the recovery of her share of the estate of her father Antoine Eli deceased, until your honors decree is made known in this behalf, and that your oratix may have such other and further relief in the premises as the nature and circumstances of this case may require and to your Honor shall seem meet.

May it please your Honor to grant unto your oratix the states writ of subpoena to be directed to the said Charles White thereby commanding him at a certain day and under a certain pain therein to be limited personally to be and appear before your Honor in the honorable court and there and then full true direct and perfect answers make to all and singular the premises, and further to stand to perform and abide such further order, direction and decree therein as to your Honor shall sum meet. And your oratix as in duly bound shall ever pray XC. J.W. Morris
